Dr. Eugene Elgin and Congressman Edward S. Brooks Have Withdrawn From Race.

LAFEAN MAY ANNOUNCE

Developments Point To Possible Conflict Between D. F. Lafean and A. R. Brodbeck for Congressional Seat.

It is evident from reports received today that a large uproar has, or is, taking place in the Republican party in this district and as a result the petitions of Dr. Eugene Elgin, candidate for State Legislature and Edward S. Brooks, candidate to succeed himself in Congress have been withdrawn in favor of other candidates.

Dr. Elgin, in a statement issued this morning stated that he does not have the time to conduct another campaign and that he has also withdrawn in the interests of party harmony, in favor of M. E. Knouse, of Brysonia. Dr. Elgin had previously announced that should another candidate be selected for this office, he would gladly withdraw from this campaign and since Mr. Knouse has announced his candidacy, he has withdrawn his petitions.

The decision of Congressman Edward S. Brooks to let the field clear to former Congressman Daniel F. Lafean if he desires to seek the Republican nomination as a candidate for congressman from this district; announcement yesterday afternoon that former Speaker of the House Robert S. Spangler, whose petition for re-election to the legislature from the York city legislative district, had been in circulation for more than a week, that he would not file it, having decided not to seek re-election.

Attorney James G. Gleesner, York, also refused an invitation to become a Republican candidate for state senator.

Brooks' Statement

In a statement Monday Congressman Brooks said that he had for some time been considering whether he could make further sacrifices of his business, or the financial outlay necessary to represent his district (Continued on Second)

LEGION TO PUSH DANCE PROJECT

Touring Car To Be Given Person Holding Winning Coupon On April 24.

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED

Plans for Securing Dues In Arrears Discussed But No Action Taken. First Meeting In New Home.

Plans for arousing interest in the dance to be staged by the Albert Lentz Post of the American Legion at which time the person holding the winning coupon will receive a touring car were discussed at the regular meeting of the war organization in its home on York street, Monday evening. Incidentally this was the first meeting to be held in the new home of the post.

Last January it was decided to conduct a dance and in connection to give away an automobile on the night of the event, April 24. The original date set was April 17, but it was necessary to postpone the dance one week. So far approximately one-fourth of the tickets have been disposed of. It was suggested that the car be taken out and shown to the public to stimulate interest in the project of the Legion. It was announced by William Allison, commander, that he with the adjutant and finance officer had endorsed a promissory note for $300 to C. W. Epley for his share in the automobile. It was suggested an effort be made to get a rebate on the original cost of the car.

The name of Dr. Walter Danforth, Cente Square, was proposed for membership by Peter McCallion and the name of Arthur Jones, Baltimore street, was proposed by John Slaybaugh. Both were elected to membership.

It was reported that a number of members have failed to pay their dues for the year 1922 and it was suggested that promissory notes be sent to all delinquents and have them signed for the amount of $3, this being one year's dues to the post. Others suggested that committees be appointed to call upon all men who have not paid the dues. No action was taken on either of these suggestions.

Statement of the cost of taking members of the "Cleanup Squad" over the battlefield was presented. An order was granted in favor of Hemler Brothers to pay for gasoline and oil used.

Transfer of the property purchased by the post was reported made and that it was necessary for the trustees to draw a note for $400 in addition to a mortgage for $2,500 to meet the obligation. About $600 pledged toward the house fund has not been paid in.

PRIVATE REILLY TRANSFERRED

Motorcycle Officer Has Been Assigned to the Local Substation.

Private Eugene F. Reilly, a mounted man who has been attached to the local sub-station of the State Police has been transferred from this station and his place here will be taken within a few days by Private Bassler, a motorcycle man, lately attached to the Chambersburg sub-station. Private Reilly has been located in Gettysburg for three months.

Comfortable quarters have been arranged in the Topper building adjoining the Court House on Baltimore street and are now being occupied by the State Police attached to the Gettysburg sub-station. They occupy the second floor of the building and besides having a small office, there are two rooms used for the dormitory where a man is on duty both day and night to answer all calls that may be made for their services. The station can be reached at present by telephone through District Attorney Raymond Topper's office and later a telephone will be installed in the office of the State Police.

With the opening of the trout season, the police have taken up the work of patrolling the streams in order to enforce the fishing laws of the state and in this connection it may be well to notify, again, all fishermen, that this year a license is required to fish in the streams of Pennsylvania and must be carried by the angler.

TRUCK SENT TO SEVEN STARS FIRE

Blaze Destroys Large Outkitchen At Residence of William Settle.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the large outkitchen in the rear of the property of William Settle, in Seven Stars, about noon today and also damaged window frames, cornice and roof on one side of the main house. The damage is estimated at between $1,000 and $1,500.

The family had attended the funeral services of the late John P. Butt, which were held this morning, and on returning home found that the outkitchen was afire. Neighbors quickly gathered and a bucket brigade was formed, water being secured from a well at the barn on the property, but before the fire was brought under control, the well was pumped dry and water could not be secured from the well at the house because it was located too near the burning structure. C. B. Dougherty, president of the Gettysburg town council, who had also attended the funeral, telephoned for the Gettysburg motor fire truck and a record run was made to the scene of the fire. Fifteen minutes after the call was received chemicals were playing on the blaze. The run of four miles was made in five minutes. With the use of chemicals, the fire was brought under control so that little damage was done to the main house which is of brick, but the out kitchen was completely destroyed. James B. Aumen, fire chief, was in charge of the truck.

NOTED LEADER OF DRYS COMING HERE

"Pussyfoot" Johnson Will Lecture In St. James Church April 25.

Final arrangements have been made to secure "Pussyfoot" Johnson to lecture in the St. James Lutheran church here, on Tuesday evening, April 25. Mr. Johnson just recently returned from an extended trip abroad and announces his subject for the evening, "The New India."

This "Citizen of the World" has recently returned from a tour of India, where in six weeks he traveled 7,000 miles, made 200 addresses and had crowded into his audiences 1,500,000 persons. As a representative of the Anti-Saloon League of America in London, he lost an eye through mob violence, and just recently he was bombed in Wisconsin. The story of Johnson's Indian experiences read like the old books of travel. It is not merely the record of the personal triumph of a man, but the record of progress in a great movement, and the story of Uncle Sam as the leader of the nations.

He is known as the man who wears "A Smile that won't come off." He is also known as an international citizen because he has visited so many nations and has spoken to so many peoples.

Within a short time after Mr. Johnson gives the lecture in Gettysburg he will embark for Australia for an extended visit to that country. It is therefore a matter of great importance to consider the fact that a town of our size is able to hear this noted speaker when hundreds of towns are begging him to come.

SPOKE AT ROTARY CLUB

H. T. Weaver was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon-meeting of the Gettysburg Rotary Club at the Battifield Hotel Monday evening. Mr. Weaver traced the development of the merchandising business of G. W. Weaver & Son from its beginning to the present day. Other members of the club will speak about the enterprises and professions they represent at later meetings.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Clarence Reinecker, of Gettysburg, was admitted to the Annie Warner hospital on Monday and underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils and adenoids. The operation was successful and he was discharged from the institution today.

ON Friday, April 7th, at one o'clock there will be Public Sale at the Eagle Hotel of household furniture, mattresses, comforts and many useful articles.—advertisement 1

OWNERSHIP BY LABOR SUGGESTED

Dr. Talcott Williams Says This Is Only Solution of All Labor Troubles.

HONORARY ALUMNUS HERE

Spoke of Present Labor Situations Existing, Before Large Audience In Brua Chapel.

"The only solution for the labor problems of today is ownership of industries by those that work in them. This was predicted years ago and such general action will be the first step to industrial peace and development," said Dr. Talcott Williams, of the School of Journalism of the Columbia University in a lecture before the student body of the college in Brua Chapel this morning.

Dr. Williams besides being a newspaper man, writer and a lecturer is an honorary alumnus of Gettysburg College, a degree having been conferred on him ten years ago.

The speaker maintained the right of students and scholars to doubt accepted doctrines and to investigate everything possible about the economic conditions of this country.

"Just because something has been happening the same way for a long while is the best reason for kicking it out," he declared in emphasizing this point.

In reaching the main trend of his lecture that of wider ownership of industries Dr. Williams continued.

"Many forms of labor ownership have been tried. Profit-sharing and giving employees shares of stock have both failed because it is giving something for nothing. Nothing given to man without any effort on his part builds to his character."

"The great increase in ownership of industries by workers has wrought a great change in the last ten years and (Continued on Sixth)

NO COAL SHORTAGE NOW

Dealers Will Be Able To Meet Regular Demand.

Gettysburg coal dealers have sufficient supplies of bituminous and anthracite coal on hand to meet the needs of consumers here for the next few months. Dealers have been given assurance at the mines that some coal will be shipped, but warnings have been sent out that a shortage is a certainty. The time of year is coming when many householders stock their cellars with coal for the following winter's use, but from present indications there will not be a large enough supply for that purpose.

It is known that large supplies of coal are stored at various points, but these, it is said, would not be sufficient to meet the demands longer than mid-summer. Indications are from the attitude taken by the operators, miners and government that the strike is not going to be settled in a short time.

SALES FEWER THIS SEASON

But Prices Generally Were Higher Than Last Year.

There were fewer public sales conducted in Adams county this year than in any of the past five years, those who have followed the auctions for some time, say. Prices, however, were higher than last year when farm implements and equipment made low records in the bidding.

The peak of the sale seasons in this county was reached in 1920 when more public auctions and articles offered for sale brought high prices. There has been a marked "back to the farm" movement throughout the United States during the past year and this is given as one of the reasons for the fewer sales generally. Discouragement among farmers over low prices for their products was reflected by the number desiring to sell out in 1920.

PASTOR TRANSFERRED

Father M. Scanlon, pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic Church in Fairfield, has been transferred to the St. Joseph's church at Bonneauville. He succeeds Rev. J. M. Nichols, who is going to a hospital for treatment. No one has been appointed to take charge of the church at Fairfield.

STUDENTS WANT NEW GYMNASIUM

Ask Faculty of College That It Be Built First of New Buildings.

That the pressing need of Gettysburg College is a gymnasium is the opinion of the student body. Men enrolled at the institution admit there is need of a science building and a new dormitory, but this morning at a mass meeting in Brua Chapel, they passed a resolution urging the faculty to make a gymnasium the first structure to be built in the program of work soon to be adopted. Several new buildings will be erected with the funds derived from the campaign for a million dollars. Part of this sum, which is expected to be completely raised in a short time, will be used for endowment purposes and part for new buildings.

Lutherans of Philadelphia have pledged themselves to raise $100,000 for a new dormitory and it was thought by some that this would be the first building to be erected under the program.

For a number of years there has been a sentiment among the student body and alumni for a new gymnasium that would give a larger playing floor for basketball and an inside drill space for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. The present gymnasium is inadequate, the students feel, not only for basketball, but for indoor athletic work in general.

It is expected the question of which building will be erected first will come before the faculty in the near future.

RURAL SCHOOLS FINISH TERMS

Central Examinations Will Be Held Saturday and Finals April 15.

Another school year is coming to a close this week for hundreds of boys and girls in the rural districts. Several schools have completed their terms of seven and a half months and others in the outlying sections will finish the required work by the end of the week. Next year the minimum term will be two weeks longer than this year, making a session of eight months. This is required by legislation passed in 1921 by the State.

High schools of the county will not complete their work for the most part until the end of May, which will end nine months of study.

On Saturday the central examinations will be held at various school-houses in the county where students who desire to secure the common school certificate will be given tests in orthography, English grammar, reading, geography, penmanship, United States History, arithmetic and physiology.

Pupils who qualify in this examination are entitled to take the final examination which will be held at Gettysburg High School April 15. Students successful in these tests will be permitted to enter high schools next fall.

Certificates to those who attended school every day during the year will be awarded by Superintendent Roth upon the recommendation of the teacher.

The next event of importance in the school year of the county is the May Day Festival which will be held on the College campus May 6. At this time contests in athletics and school work will be held.

FIREMEN OUT TONIGHT

Big Delegation Will Visit Littlestown Company.

A large delegation of firemen are expected to go to Littlestown tonight to meet with the firemen of that place to discuss plans for forming a county organization. Gettysburg firemen are to report at the engine house in uniform ready to leave promptly at 7 o'clock. Certain members have agreed to furnish automobiles and they have been requested to be on hand before the appointed time for leaving.

CENTENARY WORK IS CARRIED ON

Methodist Church Congregation Members Here to Make Canvass of Constituents.

FORTY MILLIONS IN FUND

Holy Week Has Been Designated For Tithing. Members Asked to Give One-Tenth of Income.

An every member canvass which is to be carried on in the Methodist Episcopal Church here and every other church of that denomination throughout the United States from May 1 to May 21 is another step taken by leaders of the church to provide adequate funds for carrying on the great program outlined at the time the Centenary movement was launched.

In the four years before the Centenary, the Methodist Episcopal Church gave to the benevolent boards included in the Centenary $13,544,119, and during the first years of the Centenary period $15,908,932. During the two years and eight months of the Centenary period there has been paid in $40,768,340.

In the Every Member Canvass a special Sunday is set apart on the afternoon of which members of the canvassing teams go out two by two to visit every member and constituent of the church. This is preceded by a training conference for the canvassers at which they are trained in a knowledge of the work of the missionary and benevolent boards of the Methodist Episcopal Church and taught how to present the matter of subscriptions to those on whom they call.

In practically every Methodist Episcopal church throughout the country the pastor has, for several weeks, been preaching on the work done by Methodism throughout the world. The purpose of the canvass is to give every member and constituent of the Methodist Episcopal church a chance to participate in the many forms of religious and social activities which the church is carrying on.

Holy Week is taking on a deeper significance than usual this year in the Methodist Episcopal churches of the United States. The members of every local church are being challenged to make a special Easter offering of one-tenth of their income for the week of April 9 to 16.

It is significant that this offering of one-tenth of the week's income is not for use in the local church. It is for the great missionary and benevolent work which the Methodist Episcopal church carries on in the United States and its insular possessions and in nearly every foreign land, the world around.

MANY AT BUTT FUNERAL

A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral this morning of John P. Butt, who died Saturday at the residence of H. E. Riddlemoser, McKnightstown. Services were conducted at the house and McKnightstown Reformed church by Rev. W. C. Pugh. The pallbearers were Charles Johnson, Lawrence Robert, Calvin Lower, Elbert Harbaugh, William Sowers and William Weikert.

SLIGHT FIRE AT FACTORY

A fire was discovered this morning at 5:00 o'clock in the boiler house at the panel factory. Watchmen at the furniture factories and men living nearby extinguished the fire before much damage was done. The fire started in a pile of scrap veneering and burned fiercely for a short time. Rafters and wood work in that part of the building were charred.

STRIKERS CUT WIRES TO MINES

State Police Called To Disperse Crowd Trying To Influence Non-Union Men.

IS COMPLETELY IN FORCE

President of Mine Workers Says Men Are Going to Stay Out. Railroad Hostlers at Work.

(By Associated Press) Pittsburgh, April 4.—First disorder in the Western Pennsylvania coal fields were reported from Fayette and Washington counties this morning where the authorities stated high tension electric wires carrying current for coal mines had been cut and a detail of state police had been called out to disperse a crowd endeavoring to induce non-union men to leave their work.

100 Per Cent Effective

Washington, April 4.—The miners' strike in all districts, both anthracite and bituminous, is 100 per cent effective, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared today after going over reports to him from union leaders.

"Every man ordered out has gone out and is staying out," Mr. Lewis declared. "From the non-union districts where we have hopes of sympathetic action by unorganized men my reports are scattering and insufficient to allow me to make a statement."

Hostlers at Work

Hagerstown, Md., April 4.—Hostlers and hostlers' helpers to the number of sixteen who had been out on strike in sympathy with the Western Maryland shopmen reported for duty this morning. The return of the men was the only feature of today's strike situation locally. A union official stated that the action of the hostlers does not mean a break in the strikers' ranks. He said that the hostlers' union is not one of the federated shopcraft but is controlled by the firemen's agreement.

STOCK REPORT

Leaders, Including Studebaker, Suffer Slight Reactions.

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 4.—Dealings in the stock exchange during the morning were in excess of 600,000 shares, the largest total for the first two hours in several years. Selling for profit caused reactions of 1 to 2 points in Studebaker, Vanadium, Gulf State Steel, Famous Players, American Car and Canadian Pacific. United States Steel reacted almost 1 point from its new high of 98½. Shipings were strong, however, and buying of oils assumed broader proportions. Davison Chemical led the specialties, rising ¾ points. Rails were the only important group on which speculative interest seemed lacking. Call money opened at 4½ per cent.

Harding's Secretary Speaks About Recent Dismissals.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 4.—The recent dismissal of upwards of 30 officials of the bureau of engraving and printing by President Harding involved no desire "to reflect upon the character of any government employee," it was said today by secretary Christian. In a letter to John J. Devine, one of the dismissed executives, Mr. Christian declared the President regretted that insinuating publicity had attended the dismissal order and indicated that a statement broadly covering the whole incident might be made later at the White House.

COAL OPERATORS MAKE PEACE MOVE

Thirteen Corporations In Maryland District Ask For Conference Under 90-Day Clause.

INDEPENDENTS HOLD OFF

Eleven Operators In Georges Creek and Two In Upper Potomac Have Signed the Proposal.

Cumberland, Md., April 4.—It developed yesterday that 13 operators in the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac field, according to William J. Trickett, secretary and Treasurer of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, has asked for a conference with representatives of the miners, in accordance with the article in the basic agreement calling for the continuation of the agreement. Eleven companies that asked for the conference operate in the Georges Creek field, Mr. Trickett says, and two in the Upper Potomac. It is understood the petitioners include the Consolidation Coal Company and companies that lease from it. A number of independent operators refused to sign the request for the conference, which, according to their count, bears nine signatures, seven from Georges Creek and two from the Upper Potomac.

Baltimore Parley Failed

At a meeting in Baltimore on January 10, called at the request of Frank J. Drum and William J. Trickett, representing the miners, in accordance with the articles of the basic agreement, nothing was done toward continuing the agreement, the minutes showing that Mr. Drum said he had nothing to offer. Since then the miners' representatives have made no move for a further conference or for a continuation of the agreement, which says "there shall be no suspension of work for a period of at least 90 days subsequent to March 31, 1922."

The request for the conference reads: "We were parties to the conference for the purpose of negotiating a continuance, we assume that our employees are likewise desirous of complying."

"We are ready and willing to meet you again, as we have always been since the adjournment of said conference" (meaning the conference in Baltimore on January 10), and therefore we ask you to meet us at such time and place as you may name for further conference, with a view to the continuance of the basic agreement with our employees."

This agreement calls for the minor rate of $1.31 a ton.

STUDENTS PRESENT AFGHAN

Robe Made By Wife Of First College President Given to Daughter.

As a mark of appreciation to Miss Sallie Krauth, for many years librarian at College, the students of the institution have presented her with the afghan, offered recently for sale at the bazaar of the Woman's League of the college. The presentation was made by Mr. Mogul, representing the student body on Monday, in the library and although there were but few present, the affair was most touching and a complete surprise to Miss Krauth. The history of this afghan is unique. It was presented by Miss Lillie McClean to The Woman's League for the bazaar, held last week. The afghan was made by Miss Krauth's mother, who was the wife of the first president of the College, and presented by her to Miss McClean. The blanket aroused much interest while on display, during the sale, as the colors in it are brilliant and the work done so many years ago, is interesting to present day needle workers.

The accounts of the Bazaar Committee have been closed and show that $135 had been cleared at the affair and this money will be devoted to the new Y. M. C. A. fund, the building being now under construction on the campus. The committee extend their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Mumper for the use of the store room for the sale and also to Mr. Bender for the use of his chairs and to the general public for their liberal patronage.

FIRE ON LINER

Former Transport Slightly Damaged In Dry Dock.

(By Associated Press)

Hoboken, N. J., April 4.—Fire today broke out on the former transport Mongolia at a dry dock driving hundreds of workmen ashore. The ship is being converted into a passenger and freight liner. The fire started in a refrigerating plant directly above tanks containing more than 150,000 gallons of oil.

The fire was under control at 11:30 a. m. Officials said the damage would not be heavy. Early reports said the fire started from a sparks from a gas burner falling into a pile of rubbish.

SUSPECT BUTLER AS MASTER MIND

Mysterious Frenchman Connected with Crime Through Display of Parisian Technique.

New York, April 4.—Police Commissioner Enright yesterday asserted that a former butler was the brains of the $60,000 jewel robbery in Washington Square Sunday.

This man, according to the commissioner, robbed Albert R. Shattuck, retired banker, in 1917, and returned again to rob. This time it was a bolder deed for bigger game. Before the jewels were whisked from the house, Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck and their eight servants were imprisoned in a wine vault, where they were saved from the danger of suffocation by the ingenuity of Mr. Shattuck in unscrewing the bolts with penknife and coin.

"We have arrested one of the robbers and hope to have them all in custody in a short while," declared the commissioner.

May Sift New England

There were indications that the police, convinced that the job was engineered by a master robber with the technique of a Parisian Apache might sift New England for trace of a band operating against the houses of the wealthy in various States.

The New England angle was introduced by Major Osborne Field of Fifth avenue, who called police headquarters with the information that last year the summer home of his father-in-law at Lenox, Mass., was robbed by a French butler who had never been apprehended. His own home at Stockbridge, Mass., was entered March 22, and the alleged robber arrested at Springfield he said.

PREMIER WINS IN PARLIAMENT

Vote of Confidence Given Lloyd George of 372 To 94.

OPPONENTS ARE ROUTED

Motion to Amend Genoa Policy Was Made Confidence Resolution and Overwhelmingly Rejected.

London, April 4.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's resolution calling for confidence in the government's policy with regard to the coming Genoa Economic Conference was adopted by the House of Commons last night by a vote of 372 to 94.

By a vote of 379 to 84, the amendment to the government's resolution calling for confidence in the government's policy regarding the Genoa Conference was rejected. The amendment, presented by John R. Clynes, Labor member, called for approval of holding the Genoa Conference, but would declare for lack of confidence in the government.

The Premier appeared in the House of Commons yesterday for the first time since February 28. He was greeted with cheers from the Government benches.

Mr. Lloyd George said his resolution gave the House an opportunity of approving or disapproving the objects of the Genoa Conference and the make-up of the Genoa delegation and that if the resolution were defeated it would be equivalent to a vote of no confidence in the Government.

Lloyd George's Resolution.

The resolution which the Prime Minister personally introduced reads: Resolved, That this house approve the resolutions passed by the Supreme Council at Cannes as a basis of the Genoa Conference, and that it will support His Majesty's Government in endeavoring to give effect to them.

Notice has been given of seven amendments to the Government's motion, but that proposed by the Labor party is given priority. The Labor amendment reads:

While approving of an international economic and financial conference, this House regrets that the scope of the discussion at Genoa has been so circumscribed that the conference must fall short of a settlement of the political and economic evils which affect Europe, and it is of the opinion that the Government, which clearly has not the confidence of the country and which is responsible for a policy whose unfortunate effects are to be considered at Genoa, is not competent to represent this country.

and Winding Gulf fields of southern West Virginia was spreading today with additional men leaving the pits, reports to union headquarters here indicated.

Representatives of the operators declared that 53 New River mines were working and that they expected the day's loadings to exceed the 239 cars sent out yesterday. In the Kanawha field 15 mines were reported working yesterday and operators said they believed additions would be made today. Of the approximately 40,000 union miners in the West Virginia fields only about 300 failed to heed the strike call, union leaders said. Raleigh county authorities are investigating complaints of union reports that 45 miners had been threatened with death unless they left Stotesbury.

The state police at Beckley, near Stotesbury reported that such an instance had not been called to their attention. The troopers reported conditions quiet in the field.

MRS. MATILDA C. STEYER

Mrs. Matilda Catherine Steyer died at her home in Silver Run Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from pneumonia. She was 79 years old.

She is survived by two sons, Allen Steyer, Union Mills, and George Steyer, at home; the following brothers and sisters: Martin Bechtel, Hanover; Nicholas Bechtel, Pleasant Hill, and John T. Bechtel, Ohio, and a sister, Miss Emma M. A. Bechtel, of Silver Run. Two grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Funeral Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the house and further services at St. Mary's Reformed church, Rev. J. S. Adams officiating, assisted by Rev. A. J. Wolf.

The rural school teacher, something of a purist, was being conducted through the Stock Exchange. "All those men running around so excitedly are brokers," explained her guide. "Brokers," she repeated. "Why the past tense?" Out of the tail of his eye her guide looked to see if she might be spoofing, but her face was as severe as ever.

ADVOCATES U. S. MINE CONTROL

Leader Tells House Committee That Intermittent Employment Is Chief Problem.

Washington, April 4.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, discussed at length the future of the coal mining industry at the hearing before the House Labor Committee on the Bland resolution for the appointment of a Government commission to investigate the industry.

"The United Mine Workers," he inserted, were a conservative organization, although they "believe in the nationalization of coal mines, under adequate safeguards to the rights of property."

He placed the blame for suspension of work on the operators' refusal to meet the union officials in joint conference and said the workers were still ready to take part in such a conference at any time when a meeting is possible.

Intermittent Work, The Problem.

Mr. Lewis said that intermittent employment in coal mines stood out as the great problem for miners. "The coal miner knows that the best he can get is 215 days of work a year," he declared, "and that he has got to get enough money in those days to support his family for 365 days. This means likewise greater costs for consumers, in overhead wastes of part time operation."

"It has another effect had upon the miners, as generation after generation gets accustomed to these casual working conditions. The stabilization of this industry is something that must be brought about eventually, and if private industry cannot handle the task, it is likely that the public will be forced to step forward and shoulder the tasks of stabilizing production and demand, difficult and hazardous as the policy may be."

properly at Washington. He had hesitated to retire without another candidate in view, he said but when he learned through newspapers that petitions for Lefane were in circulation he at once decided to leave the field to one who had ably represented the district for five terms.

Word came by telephone from the Lower End of York county Monday night to the office of The Gazette and Daily that petitions were in circulation for signers to have the name of Andrew R. Brodbeck, Hanover, appear upon the Democratic party primary ballot as a candidate for congressman. Mr. Brodbeck is a former member of congress, having served the district for several terms.

Judge W. F. Bay Stewart, who was mentioned as a Democratic congressional possibility, definitely declared to a reporter for The Gazette and Daily Sunday night that he was not a candidate for public office.

Robert D. Bream, of Cashtown, Adams county, also spoken of for the Democratic congressional nomination, has sent word that he will not enter the race at this time.

HUNT MONSTER 20,000,000 YEARS LATE!

THE PLESIOSAURUS, A MARINE REPTILE WHICH LIVED 25,000 YEARS AGO AND RULED THE PRE-HISTORIC SEAS, NOW BEING HUNTED IN PATAGONIA BY SCIENTISTS.

New York, April 4.—Somewhere in the dismal swamps of Patagonia, South America, a lonesome plesiosaurus is suffering the bitter tragedy of living 20,000,000 years late.

The proud 15-foot neck of the gigantic marine reptile must be bowed in shame, for American experts have denied it admission to the best scientific circles.

In other words, the American Museum of Natural History has been informed that a plesiosaurus of the Mesozoic order is now living in Patagonia and the officials have refused to extend the cheery welcome until better credentials are presented.

Professor Clement O'Neill of the Buenos Ayres Zoological Garden is setting out with a large expedition to capture the animal dead or alive. Its presence in Lage Esque was reported by Martin Sheffield, an Englishman, prospecting in the Andes.

Scientists of Northwestern and Chicago universities also are planning expeditions.

Millions of Years Ago

Dr. Frederic A. Lucas, director of the American Museum of Natural History, points out that the plesiosaurus lived about 20,000,000 years ago and ceased to exist when a changing environment made such marine life impossible.

H. G. Wells places the period in which the marine monster thrived between 260 and 26 millions of years ago, and says that "the abrupt ending of the marine reptile is beyond all question the most striking revolution in the whole history of the earth before the coming of man. It is probably connected with the close of a vast period of equable warm conditions and the onset of a new austere age in which the winters were bitterer and the summers brief but hot."

Other Nature Fakes

"Reported presence of these monsters, which lived millions of years ago, is always to be doubted," says Dr. Lucas.

"Only a short time ago there was the report of live mammoths in Alaska. This was proved false.

"Two years ago it was widely circulated that a brontosaurus, a monster 70 feet long and weighing 76,000 pounds, was living in the Belgian Congo. Investigators could not find it.

"The possible explanation for this report from Patagonia is that if—with a big IF—there are soft-shelled turtles in that vicinity, one was mistaken for a plesiosaurus. These turtles with their long, slim necks, swimming on the surface with the tops of their round backs exposed, would present such an appearance.

"Conditions which made life possible for the plesiosaurus do not continue. Fossil remains show they were plentiful in England and Germany; remains also have been found in Kansas.

CLEANUP TO AVOID FIRE

Every Community Should Observe Cleanup Week.

The State Bureau of Fire Protection, in a statement Monday urging the observance of the week of April 16 to 22, as Clean-Up Week, declares the spring housecleaning should be undertaken at this time with more thoroughness than ever before to eliminate every hazard, "which adds to the burden of life by increasing the cost of living and destroying natural and created resources to the extent of millions of dollars annually."

The bureau urges a "thorough clean-up of buildings and premises, removal from attics, cellars and out of the way places, all piles of newspapers, dilapidated furniture, cast-off clothing, old toys, rags and assortments of worthless articles that never will be used, but in many cases will be the cause of a serious fire, or in case of fire, will add to the flames."

The statement asserts there is no reason why every community in one State should not inaugurate a Clean-Up Week as security against loss by carelessness which, it says, is the principal cause of the largest part of the fire waste in the country.

"Local authorities," the statement declares, "can greatly assist in effecting a reduction in fire losses by insisting upon better building regulations, by the inspection of theaters, public and private institutions, factories, mills and all property during clean-up week, and the issuing of orders for the correction of conditions found to be of a menacing nature, in co-operating with the citizens and members of fire companies in efforts for the prevention of fires and reduction of the fire waste."

SCUTTLED!

Storm Country Polly

She was almost overcome with terror and fatigue as she neared the station. One thing seemed to clear her brow of wrinkles and lighten the load she was carrying. Not a soul was in sight. Even the station appeared to be deserted.

At the northern end of the Auburn car, which was waiting for the engine to pick it up, Pollyop halted. She walked around it stealthily, and then climbed up the steps. A little cry of joy leaped to her lips as the door opened under her touch.

Holding her breath, she shifted Jerry to her arms and crept slowly in. Rapidly she examined every corner; but all the places large enough to hold them both were in plain sight of anyone walking through. At the extreme end she discovered the state room; and when she went into it, a thankful feeling swept over her. It was as if that empty cabin, with its many dark places, had been built there just for them. Here she could stow Jerry away and hide herself out of sight.

Under one of the cross seats she placed the child, whispering a warning that he must be very quiet because, if a big man found them, he could not go to Daddy Hopkins. Then under the side seat that ran lengthwise, Pollyop crawled, and after she had completely secreted herself, she drew down the velvet half-curtain that hung from the seat. It seemed hours before she heard a sound. She hissed a warning to Jerry, then waited in nervous tension.

From the station platform voices could stir, a set of fingers took sharp hold of her face. In her frightened state she threw the hand off; and another ejaculation came to her ears. Then two hands came under and groped for a grip. She fought strenuously to hold her place; but the person pulled her out by main force.

Polly Hopkins was almost fainting when Robert Percival placed her on her feet. The silk dress, partly tucked in Daddy's boots and partly out, was covered with dust. In silent embarrassment she stooped and brushed it. Then she glanced up imploringly.

Robert, wax-white, was staring at her as if he could not believe his eyes; and MacKenzie, carried away by the rage within him, viciously clutched at her arm. Pollyop dragged herself away from the strong fingers.

"Don't touch me, you," she snapped hoarsely at him. "I'm going to Auburn to see my Daddy Hopkins."

Her voice was high-pitched and tensely toned. Her gaze sought one after another until it rested on Evelyn Robertson, huddled back in the corner of the seat.

"You can make him leave me be, ma'am," Polly went on. "I got a right to go to Auburn as well as any one else."

"You're a thief," Marcus thrust in grimly. "A little thief. You're stealing a ride."

With all her fighting instinct roused, Polly squared herself.

"Sure, I'm stealin' a ride," she retorted. "I couldn't ride honest; you wouldn't let me. My Daddy Hopkins—"

"It seems to me," interrupted Mrs. Robertson laughingly, "that she's stolen something else besides a ride. That dress you have on, Miss; where'd you get it?"

Polly's under lip dropped. It seemed as if a thousand hostile eyes were glaring at her.

"It's Evelyn's dress," went up the lady. "Take that coat off and let me see."

Before Robert could interfere, MacKenzie had grasped Pollyop by the shoulders and had stripped off the heavy coat. And there she stood, her bare young arms and sunburned neck exposed, her scarlet face hidden by a handful of curls. She was so overwhelmed with shame she could not say a word.

"Twice a thief," grieved MacKenzie. "I suppose you didn't give her this, Eve?"

With one long finger he pointed at the dress, but his eyes, sparkling with anger, were on Evelyn.

Never had Miss Robertson been in such a dilemma. Never had she felt so much like quietly fainting away.

"Did you?" demanded Marc, once more.

"No, no," denied the girl, trembling. "No, of course I didn't give it to her. Why should I?"

MacKenzie's sharp, "You'll land where your father is, you huzzy," brought Polly's flashing glance upon him. Untaught to deceive for her own advantage, she could not fathom Evelyn's direct falsehood. To lie for a daddy, to keep a squatter friend from prison—yes, she would have done that, but a dress! And Evelyn had given it to her, too! She turned her burning eyes upon the other girl, and there she read with sickening certainty that the gift of the robe must be buried in the grave with Oscar Bennett. If Jerry had not been tucked away back of the skirts of the two women, Polly would have made a dash for liberty, but she could not leave the baby. Would no one help her? Her eyes sought Robert's face, and as if he were awaking from a dream, he picked up the coat.

"I'll hand her over to the conductor," Marcus proceeded. "He'll know what to do with her," and he put out his hand to grasp her.

structure made it difficult to combat the flames and at one time it seemed impossible to save the house, which has a shingle roof, so the neighbors carried all the furniture out of the building. The outkitchen which was destroyed, was a large frame building, about 20 feet square and two stories in height. It is said that there has been no fire in this building today and the origin of the fire is a mystery.

The Gettysburg firemen were delayed in starting to the fire as it was necessary to first obtain the consent of the property committee of town council, for taking the truck outside of the borough limits. After they did get started, however, it required but ten minutes to make the run of about four miles.

FOUR OF FAMILY PERISH

Log House On Mountain Top Destroyed By Fire.

Cumberland, Maryland, April 4.—Aroused by the unusual barking of a dog, followed by the shrill cries of his 11-year-old daughter, Agnes, Albert Logsdon, a farmer on top of Bald Knob Mountain, shortly before midnight Sunday night leaped from bed and burst into the room adjoining, to find a furnace of smoke and flame. He was driven back and was forced to leave four members of his family to the mercy of the flames. They were his wife, Nora, aged 48; daughter, Agnes, and sons, John, eight, and Raymond six years old, respectively. All were burned to a crisp.

The family is a pioneer one in Allegheny county and the story and a half house of logs weather-boarded, was built 130 years ago, and was always in the Logsdon family. Mrs. Logsdon had baked Saturday and had an unusually hot fire in the kitchen stove. The fire it is thought, originated from this stove. The fire had evidently been smoldering several hours, and the flames, fanned by a high wind on the mountain top 1,500 feet above level, the house was soon reduced to ashes. The little girl occupied the room between that of her father and the room where the mother and two little boys slept.

When Logsdon saw he could not reach them, although he made a desperate attempt, sustaining a badly burned face, he aroused his sons, 15 and 13 years old, on the other side of the house and they jumped from the second-story window over a porch roof to the ground. Logsdon cut his hands badly with glass in smashing out the window to escape.

YARRISON AND LOFTUS

As Seen By Cullen Cain, The Sport Writer.

Cullen Cain, sport writer for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, in commenting on the Athletics' pitching staff, now in training in Texas, has the following to say of Yarrison and Loftus, formerly of the Hanover Blue Ridge Club.

"Byron Yarrison, the club's star pitching prospect, is a Montgomery, Pennsylvania boy. He spent four years at Gettysburg College and then became a member of the Hanover Blue Ridge League team. He was sent to Connie Mack while playing with Hanover. Mack farmed him out later on to Rocky Mount. Yarrison is twenty four years old and weighs 160 pounds. He is a quiet fellow, thin faced, dark hair and eyes and with a pleasant and rather mild expression. He loves to play ball and is having the time of his young life in the training camp of the big-league club.

"Frank Loftus is Irish himself and came from Scranton. He is a graduate of the famous St. Bonaventure School, and spent last year on the Hanover Blue Ridge League team. Loftus is a giant in build, weighing 193 pounds, and he just naturally is big all over. He too loves the game, and his whole heart and soul are set upon making good in his first big-league venture. He is light haired, red-faced and full of courage and confidence. I would say that Loftus is of the combative type, the only player on the team, excepting Brazil, who has very much aggressiveness in his disposition.

"These boys, Yarrison and Loftus, got a real test in the Cardinal series. The Cards hammered the Yankee pitchers for twenty three runs in two games."

HAGERSTOWN HAS A BABE RUTH

"I have landed a second Babe Ruth," Corcoran wrote. "Just got his contract and say, can this youth hit the old apple? He just simply hits them a mile." Babe Ruth's successor is named O'Hearn. He is a big raw-boned Irishman, a natural-born hitter, whose regular position is at first base. With the signing of O'Hearn, Hagerstown is well supplied with first base material and it will probably be a merry fight between the four candidates for the initial sack.

Manager Corcoran will find other "Babe" Ruth hitters in the league when he makes his first trip over the circuit.

MAHANOEY WON CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeated Harrisburg Tech in Contest For State Honors.

Mahanoe City High School won the third annual basketball championship of the State at State College Saturday afternoon, defeating Harrisburg Tech 22 to 17. For 32 minutes of the contest Tech led. With eight minutes to go Mahanoe City took a lucky streak that brought the victory. Two field goals, half the length of the floor and from the side tied the score. During the seven remaining minutes the coal region lads tallied five more points on several fouls and another long two-pointer while Tech failed to score.

The two little Tech forwards rolled the sphere around the basket time after time only to have it drop on the outside, while it seemed that every time the ball was near the Mahanoe City basket something pulled it through for points. The better team won Saturday afternoon and the Tech boys were not slow to offer congratulations. The summary of the championship contest.

Team Mahanoe City
Tuckey forward Leonard
McLinn forward Courtney
Ellis center Dawson
Wiltsch guard Smith
Sykes guard Tolan
Substitutions—Kapo for Courtney; Deani for Kapo. Field goals: Courtney, Leonard, 4; Dawson, Smith, Deani, Tuckey, 2; Ellis, 2. Foul goals: Ellis, 9 out of 18; Courtney, 2 out of 9; Smith, 3 out of 5. Referee: White.

WILL PAY JOE WARD

Martinsburg has decided to pay the claim of Joe Ward, who managed the club the first week of last season. Ward won a decision for $425 from the Martinsburg club, the sum representing 25 per cent of the amount received by the Martinsburg club for the sale of players last season. Judge Landis ruled that Ward should be paid this sum, the decision being made on a technicality. Ward winning his claim on the fact that in the clause regarding the 25 per cent of all players sold during the 1921 season it was not definitely stated that this agreement terminated with the player's contract.

SPRING FOOTBALL ON

Head Coach W. W. Wood today called for the first spring football practice at College. Practice will be held regularly through the spring for the purpose of developing new material and keeping the men in shape. BEWARE OF CROWN GALL

Sale of Nursery Stock Affected by it is Prohibited.

Most commercial orchardists have learned by bitter experience that it does not pay to plant fruit trees affected by the disease variously known as "crown gall," "root gall," or "hair root," according to whether the disease appears as a gall-like swelling around the crown, similar galls on the roots, or unusual masses of fibrous roots from the main stock instead of the usual branching root system. Such trees are likely to die soon after planting or to grow in a sickly, stunted fashion and die about the time when they should come into bearing.

Under the state nursery inspection system carried out by the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture the sale of trees affected by crown gall is prohibited. All buyers of nursery trees should insist on receiving plants with roots and stocks free from any of the symptoms mentioned.

SWINE FREED BY ACCIDENT

William Sanders, tenant on the William Heyser farm along the York pike, met with an accident last Saturday morning which has since confined him to his home. Mr. Sanders was bringing a truck loaded with twelve hogs to a local dealer. About 8:30 that morning, when near Gulden's Station, he heard a noise in the truck and looked around, thinking that some of the animals might be getting out. The motion of his body probably turned the steering wheel of the truck so that it ran over a five-foot embankment at the side of the road and the machine turned on its side. The hogs were liberated by the overturning of the truck and Mr. Sanders sustained a deep cut on his left leg which required medical attention. With the assistance of neighbors, the swine were finally recovered and loaded into wagon and brought to Gettysburg. The truck was badly damaged in the accident and the top was smashed in.

TRAVELING MAN HAS STOMACH RECONSTRUCTED

Fainting Spells and Distress Relieved by Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules

"Last October," writes Walter Furman, traveling salesman of Richmond Springs, N. Y., "when I was in Plattsburgh I was bothered a lot with indigestion, dyspepsia and a bloated feeling brought on by excess gas. Fainting spells would attack me suddenly, and I was in dire distress. In seeking relief, I was advised to try JACQUES' LITTLE WONDER CAPSULES. This I did and before reaching the hotel that night for retiring I had decided relief. I felt so much better the following morning that I purchased an additional box, and found that one capsule following each meal has since reconstructed my stomach and now feel remarkably well. My brother-in-law recently had an acute attack of indigestion, something that often troubled him, and within a few minutes after swallowing two of the capsules, he was relieved."

If you are one of the suffering ones you can still save your stomach by using Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules. Just swallow one or two capsules and you will find prompt relief. The pure gelatin covering dissolves within one or two minutes after reaching the stomach, releasing the finely powdered medicines to do their effective work. One capsule aids in digesting 5,000 grains of food.

If you are bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, sour stomach, dizziness after eating, gas, biliousness or constipation try this valuable prescription.

Twelve days' treatment costs but 60 cents. Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules are sold under a strict guarantee of satisfactory results or money refunded.

On sale by People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa., or 60 cents by mail post-paid for large package from Jaques Capsule Co., Plattsburgh, N. Y.

The Value of Pure Milk

Like many common things, the value of milk is not fully appreciated. It contains all the essential body building elements and will not overtax the digestive system.

Our government issues a bulletin in which it states that a quart of milk is the equivalent in energy of 11 ounces of sirloin steak, 81-2 eggs or 10.7 ounces of fowl.

Recent investigation has revealed startling conditions, showing a large percentage of under-nourished children. Nurses employed by our public schools have found under-nourished children in families where it was least expected.

Give your children plenty of pure milk, if you want to protect them against under-nourishment. More pure milk is needed by most families, and old and young alike will be benefited by its use.

The select dairy herds from which we get our supply of milk and cream are kept under sanitary conditions and we use the best means of sanitation in handling it, assuring a pure product for the babies.

Last Rush of Nominating Petitions Now On At Bureau of Elections.

The final rush of petitions for nominations has started and is clogging the Bureau of Elections. Approximately 600 petitions are now in hand, most of them having from 200 to 10,000 signatures more than are needed and in every mail arriving at Harrisburg are supplemental petitions, which go far toward attesting the popularity of the candidate, if anyone cares to look into the files.

It is expected that the papers of most of the State-wide candidates will be filed in the next few days, but the final days rush is due on Thursday and the following day is the last on which a candidate may withdraw before the spring primary.

Among the additional nominating petitions filed Monday were ones for Major David A. Reed and Senator George Wharton Pepper, Republican for State nominations, whose papers were formally entered Saturday.

Papers for practically every county are on file for Major Reed and for about a third of the state for Senator Pepper.

The House petition of D. Calvin Rudisill, of this county, was among those filed on Monday.

Officers of the State Election Bureau look for a tremendous rush in the next few days and have secured extra clerks to assist in the examination of the papers.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Unlock the treasure box of spring styles

And out steps oh, such a tempting array of Tailor-made suits

You can view them all in our suit department; the trimly tailored that possesses a belt but much prefers to go unbelted this spring and its younger sister, the box coat suit. You can see braid trimming or embroidery, cording or bands of self material. Low coat openings are very new.

And how interesting the box coat has become this season. In one suit it is pronouncedly oriental—sleeve, cut, trimming, all; in another it is belted in front; its collars are different; its sleeves most alluring—the fabrics, poret twill and tricotine. In colors navy and black are as usual most popular tho tan and lighter blue are to be had.

And displaying as they do the signature—

these suits leave no question of their fine quality and excellent tailoring: You just know you can depend upon them.

will revolutionize industry. The saying that knowledge is power and solution asserts itself in all these problems."

Dr. Williams is a staunch believer in the system by Thomas E. Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company that operates the trolley system of Philadelphia. He reviewed the struggle between Mr. Mitten and some banker stockholders on the question of whether the lines should be operated for the purpose of increased dividends or increased wages. Mr. Mitten's appeal to the workers who bought up as much stock as they could brought victory for him and now the employees are shareholders and own part of the company.

"It is the only traction company in the country where employees are owners and where the employs and stockholders are now both satisfied. The threatened railroad strike last year was averted because the workers of the Pennsylvania lines realized that a strike would hurt their own interests as they were part owners of the railroad."

Dr. Williams then went into details of giving comparisons of the number of stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad upon its organization and today, showing that the original number was about fifty and today there are nearly one hundred and thirty thousand, of which most are workers. He declared that if the present coal situation was handled in a like manner the strike would not be.

"Where there is secrecy there is suspicion. With complete publicity trouble will be over, for no one will stand in the face of public disfavor. No corporation should have the right to add to its capital unless the transaction has been passed upon by some judicial authority. This will be the next great change."

This was the extent of Dr. Williams' appeal for publicity and after dwelling on statistics of the growth of the number of stockholders in various well known corporations of today as compared with the time of their organization he branched into economic conditions as regards facilities.

ORDERED TO RETURN TO SHOPS

Hostlers and Their Helpers Will Return To Work and Receive Former Pay.

Orders instructing the hostlers and hostler helpers to return to work in the Western Maryland shops immediately, the refusal of union leaders and Western Maryland Railroad officials to confirm the rumor that the Maintenance of Way Department was negotiating a new agreement with the Dickson Construction and Repair Co. and a statement by President Maxwell C. Byers, of the Western Maryland Railroad that it was not with an aim to break the unions that the contract system was adopted, were the major developments in the strike in Hagerstown, Monday.

L. V. Crouse, foreman of the hostlers, who received the message Monday night, stated that the hostlers would return to work on the same wage scale they received before the contract system was adopted and would work but eight hours per day. This scale is 62 cents an hour, two cents more than the machinists are paid under the contract system. Sixteen men are affected in Hagerstown, he said.

The order instructing the hostlers and hostler helpers to return to work was not taken even by the Western Maryland as indicative of any break in the rank of the strikers, for the hostlers union is not one of the Federated Shop Crafts, but is controlled by the Firemen's agreement.

It will be recalled that the hostlers did not walk out when the shop crafts and maintenance of way workers did. It was several days later that the hostlers, about a dozen in number, left the shops in sympathy with the shopmen. It was said at the time that they were not ordered to leave by their union heads.

The order to the hostlers probably resulted from pressure brought to bear upon the Firemen's union President Maxwell C. Byers, who it is said, urged that the Brotherhood see that its contract with the railroad was not violated if they desired the same assurances from the Western Maryland.

BONUS PASSED IN MARYLAND

Gives Ex-Service Men $10 a Month. Bonus For Overseas Duty.

The Maryland Legislature which adjourned early this morning, finally passed the soldier bonus bill in favor of ex-service men of that state. The total amount used in paying the bonus is not to exceed $9,000,000 and the funds are to be raised by a direct and collateral inheritance tax. The bill provides that each soldier, sailor and marine who served in the late war shall receive a bonus of $10.00 a month, for each month he was in the service, prior to the signing of the armistice with 25 per cent additional for overseas duty.

It is said that in anticipation of the passage of the bonus bill the comptroller has already received many applications for forms from ex-soldiers who intend to apply for the bonus.

PROJECTS COMPLETE HIGHWAYS

In the coming construction season the Highway Department will link up a number of improved road sections through the construction of new projects and those linking propositions will almost complete important trans-Pennsylvania highways which are of importance to the State at large. Bids were opened February 28 and March 1 on 32 projects and since that time contracts for a number of these have been awarded. Additional bids for approximately 234 miles of highway will be opened April 18 and 19.

In Lemoyne and Camp Hill boroughs, Cumberland county, there will be built 11,774 feet on Route No. 34, the main highway connecting Harrisburg with Carlisle, Chambersburg and Hagerstown.

BIG MERGER EXPECTED

Negotiations are pending for the consolidation of the York Street Railways Company, and the York Haven Water and Power Company, it was learned from a reliable source. It was also learned that there are other groups negotiating for the control of the York Haven plant, which is owing to increase in demand for power to a point which taxes its capacity.

GEAR UP AND TONE UP

You'll hardly want a disconnected gear in your Spring Apparel. You don't want to be off the style speed in model, texture or pattern in your spring suit. You'll want to tone up to quality and distinctiveness, too. We're ready to make correct quality, style and value certain.

There's a vast difference between "Jazz" styles and the refined style of the well-groomed young gentlemen. We've brought out that difference very effectively, very cleverly, very obviously—refinement without flamboyant distinctiveness, without obtrusiveness. It gives a man the appearance of toning up on quality without toning up on price. TONED DOWN PRICES. $18—$26.50

What the New York Times said of it: We want every one to enjoy it as we did, to say there wasn't a dull moment in it is putting it mildly. The audience had the time of its life. The struggle for life in the Niagara Rapids rivals the water scenes in "Way Down East".
